

eMite's power is its inherent ability to instantly link, correlate and measure operational activities and supporting technology infrastructure. This means It 'gathers' information proactively, dynamically and instantaneously from any and all of your electronic technology sources – and it does so without invading or disrupting any of your existing resources. This technology breakthrough replaces many manual, redundant and time consuming tasks you currently perform to operate your business.

eMite allows your people and processes to focus on high quality, customer oriented activities to fulfill the companies mission, while minimizing the disruptions and ripple effects of unexpected events caused by technology disruptions.

For the CEO, this means eMite can:

- Enhance Revenue opportunities
- Manage/reduce risk & liability
- Enhance customer relationships
- Enhance supplier relationships/reliability
- Manage long term stability and growth
- Manage costs and optimize profit
- Eliminate weakness Enhance Market Share

For the CFO, this means eMite can:

- Proactively Manage Financial Risk
- Reduce budget risk
- Manage costs
- Financial Forecasting reliability

For the COO, this means eMite can:

- 'Operationalize' Business Model Efficiency
- Manage work force competency
- Rapid identification and remediation of failures
- Align 'resources' to support the business model
- Timely, predictable, and reliable delivery of Products and Services as described by the business

For the CIO, this means eMite can:

- Manage the complete IT service and support platform
- Provide Rapid response to new opportunities
- Provide Rapid response to remediation opportunities
- Proactive planning and execution of systems to support the business model
- Manage IT services costs
- Provide instant visibility into acquisitions, allowing rapid and seamless integration

For the CTO, this means eMite can:

- Forecast technology requirements
- Predict weaknesses
- Proactively and accurately design and align capacity to support the business model
- Manage/optimize technology support costs
- Enhance Reliability, Availability, Maintainability, Serviceability